

Yearbook class makes the yearbook for the school. The point of this course is to create a final product for the school and learn the skills required to make a quality product. The publisher dictates deadlines for completion of this product and our course timeline is based on their deadlines. This course is very much like having a job in the “real” world. This is a class that requires lots of hard work and dedication, but we get to celebrate our hard work with pride in a quality product.
